October 2020

Dear Administrator,

On behalf of the College Board's Advanced Placement Program® (AP®) and Educational Testing Service® (ETS®), I congratulate your school for the significant contributions made by Theresa Buendorf during the 2020 AP Reading. In June 2020, 613 high school AP teachers and college faculty joined together to score 94,312 AP European History exams. The circumstances in which this work was completed were unprecedented, and Theresa Buendorf helped ensure AP students could pursue college credit and placement opportunities even in the midst of school closures and the ongoing coronavirus pandemic.

The careful evaluation of students' work by your faculty member and other highly qualified professionals is one of the most important aspects of the AP Program. A huge part of the AP Program's success is due to a scoring process that reflects the high standards of AP Readers who, by virtue of their experience and expertise, have appropriate student performance expectations within their respective disciplines.

In addition, many AP teachers report that participating in the AP Reading is an incredibly valuable professional development experience. According to our most recent survey, 97% of high school teachers who were AP Readers have made changes to the way they teach or score work as a direct result of their participation in the AP Reading.

Thank you for supporting your teacher's participation in the 2020 Reading and for recognizing the value of this experience for your teacher—and, by extension, your AP students.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in black ink that reads "Trevor Packer".

Trevor Packer
Senior Vice President, AP and Instruction
The College Board

Congratulations to
Mrs. Buendorf!

News from the Counseling Department

The counseling office has been buzzing with students and staff over the past 5.5 weeks. We have been working closely with students and parents to ensure a smooth transition back into the school year despite a new learning model. To date, we have administered the ACT to our current seniors, hosted senior parent night, set students up with virtual opportunities to tour colleges, and have assisted many seniors in applying to colleges. October is college knowledge month. Staff throughout the district are wearing college gear 1-2 days a week to promote higher education. There is a visual representation of graduation on the wall between Liz and Barb's office to further bring awareness to higher education. Upcoming events to highlight include financial aid night for seniors and their family and junior parent night.

From Mrs. Bently:

While some of the events I typically work with have been curtailed, I am pleased with the progress taking place on two fronts.

Thanks to excellent leadership in the senior class, communication is ongoing regarding the typical fall selections, namely the class colors, class flowers, and class motto. Some discussion is also taking place regarding a design for the senior class t-shirt. Given the recent announcement that there will be a homecoming celebration, seniors are looking forward to finding out more.

On another front, the school newspaper is purposely accelerating its work to help increase the lines of communication. Student editor Jordan Horejsi is being impressively persistent about finding story ideas and helping assure the details are taken care of. There have already been two editions of the Panther Press published with another scheduled before the month of October ends.

Students and teachers alike are facing changed circumstances and an array of challenges. Many folks, however, are continuing to find positive ways to contribute and keep things working as smoothly as possible.
