

Alexandra Combs – NRHEG’s English Student of the Month

Mrs. Bently chose as her Student of the Month because she is always seen writing and communication as central to her education. She has participated in Panther Press competitive speech, One-Act Play and Readers Theater performances. Her future college major is likely to revolve around communication arts, making Lexi an ideal “student of the month” for the English department.

Below is a form Alexandra completed on her activities and achievements at NRHEG, along with a few brief questions she answered for us!

How many years have you attended NRHEG? What are your best memories here? Attended since kindergarten; my best memories typically include time spent with friends or participating in activities, especially One-Act Play.

Are you employed and/or do you have a summer job? If so, where & what do you do? Yes, I am employed year-round Casey’s in New Richland.

What are your plans after Graduation? I plan to attend college after graduation to pursue theatre directing or English education as a major, most likely at Gustavus Adolphus College.

Describe yourself: what do you like to do, favorite things, hobbies/interests, family, pet, etc. I enjoy reading, singing, watching Netflix, and going to the movie theatre. Hobbies include: playing the guitar, ukulele, an piano; writing creative stories or poems; and painting with watercolors or acrylics. I live with my mom and younger sister, and my older sister lives and works in Minneapolis. I also live with my two adorable and cuddly dogs, Ellie and Lady.

What is something surprising most people do not know about you? I can’t ride a bicycle. Also I was hit by a truck while walking home from school one day.

What words of advice do you have for the under-classmen? In high school get as involved in activities in your community as you possibly can. It helps you discover your interests and passions, which may lead you to future goals and paths
