2. From Mr. Paula: “The Panther Den School Store, which is run by the Marketing class, is going to order another round of apparel as the first round sold well. We'll look to have a new item in within the next few weeks. Items are available to the public in the office. Additionally, the Business Education department has ordered 10 Edison Robots for implementation into our computer and technology curriculum. The robots are programmed by the students at varying levels of difficulty as students become more proficient. As a department, we'll look to incorporate coding, 3D design, and robotics into our new course offerings for the 2018-2019 school year.”

3. From Mrs. Bently: “--Members of the senior class are in the process of ordering their class t-shirts.
--Mrs. Jensen is locating the class of 2018's video "time capsule," and as soon as it is transferred from videotape into digital format, it will be uploaded to the internet for class members to see.
--The speech team's season has begun with practices and piece selection; our first invitational will be January 27, if there is sufficient interest from team members.
--Members of the Journalistic Writing class will contribute to one last edition of the Panther Press as the semester comes to a close. Once spring semester begins, volunteers will be writing the stories.”
4. From Mrs. Kormann: “Snow Week will be held the week of February 5. The Snow Week Court includes Emily Crabtree, Lauren Herrmann, Michelle Katzung, Betsy Schoenrock, Sophie Thompson, Justin Mortensen, Aaron Olson, Kollin Reese, Braden Routh and Brendon Strand. Coronation will be held at 2:35 p.m. on Monday, the Talent Show will be at 2:15 on Friday and semi-formal dance will be on Saturday from 8 - 11 p.m. Nate Jensen will be the DJ.”
5. From Mr. Otstot: “Over the winter break the NRHEG Marching Band traveled to San Diego to march in the Port of San Diego Holiday Bowl parade and participate in the halftime show at the Holiday Bowl. The trip was a great success as the students performed extremely well as well as made lifelong memories. In addition to the rehearsal with other marching bands from around the country and the performances, the band was able to see the world famous San Diego Zoo, spend a morning at the beach, and enjoy an afternoon at Seaworld. Overall the trip was a great experience for our students and chaperones.” See the wonderful pictures below!

From Mrs. Aaseth: “For the past couple months we have been transitioning from an older SchoolConnects program, to a more updated, user-friendly SchoolMessenger program for communicating absences, general messages and emergency messages to our staff and families of NRHEG. The company, Synervoice, has joined West Corporation to more fully support the parent and community engagement, therefore the upgrade to the SchoolMessenger platform was needed to continue with this solution. There will be opportunities for us to post messages on social media and communicate with parents and staff through texting. This is in addition to the emailing and calling that we are currently doing. The administration, administrative assistants and technology coordinator have been training on this new solution, and after the first of the year, we have fully transitioned to SchoolMessenger. We are finding it to be less cumbersome than the old platform, and we are able to send out communications easily and efficiently.”
